Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The Information Disclosure Statement under 37 C.F.R. 1.97 has been received and reviewed. However, the information disclosure is not deemed to be pertinent over the prior art of record.

Specification

2. Claim 12 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot be dependent upon other dependent claims. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claim 12 has not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 12 is being considered vague and indefinite since it is claiming a product-by-process produced by, apparatus, and method. Please rewrite the claim and clarify.

A claim cannot be both method and apparatus, it must be clear by its wording that is drawn to one or the other of these two mutually exclusive statutory classes of invention. See Ex Parte Forsyth, et al 151, USPQ 55.

Therefore, claim 2 is unpatentable under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph as being indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ikeda in view of ferry, et al.

Art Unit: 1722

8. Ikeda teaches a method and apparatus for pulling a single crystal by the Czochralski method where a melt is heated by heaters arranged around, or around and below the quartz crucible. The apparatus, of Ikeda, for pulling a single crystal can be directly heated by the heaters, so that a local rise in crucible temperature caused by occurrence of temperature unevenness can be prevented (see column 2, lines 22-50).

9. The difference being that Ikeda does not teach a heat-shielding member. Ferry, et al teaches a similar method and apparatus, wherein a heat-shielding assembly for a single crystal is taught. The heat shield is adapted for location within a crystal puller, with respect to a crucible. The heat shield assembly has a central opening sized and shaped for surrounding the ingot as the ingot is pulled from the molten material. The heat shield has a reflector on its inner surface and an outer surface is generally opposed with a side wall of the crucible (see column 3, lines 43-68 and columns 4-7, lines 1-68, respectively. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify and optimize the process and apparatus limitations, as taught by Ikeda, with the apparatus limitation, as taught by Ferry, et al. The motivation being that the deterioration of a quartz crucible caused by exposure to a high temperature for a long period of time can be prevented, so that occurrence of dislocation caused by the crucible deterioration can be inhibited.

A reference is good not only for what it teaches by direct anticipation but also for what one of ordinary skill might reasonably infer from the teachings.
